Navigation Data

Like all websites, this site collects some personal data whose transmission is implicit in the use of Internet communication protocols. The computer systems and software procedures responsible for the operation of this site acquire, during their normal operation, some personal data whose transmission is implicit in the use of Internet communication protocols. This data is not collected to be associated with identified users, but, by its very nature, it could, through processing and association with data held by third parties, allow for the identification of users.

This category of data includes IP addresses or domain names of computers used by users who connect to the site, URI (Uniform Resource Identifier) addresses of the requested resources, the time of the request, the method used to submit the request to the server, the size of the file obtained in response, the numerical code indicating the status of the server's response (success, error, or similar), and other parameters related to the user's operating system and computing environment.

This data is used solely to gather anonymous statistical information about the use of the site and to monitor its correct functioning. The data is deleted immediately after processing. The data may be used to ascertain responsibility in the case of hypothetical cybercrimes committed against the site.

Cookies

Regarding cookies processed through the website, please refer to the cookie policy.

PURPOSE OF DATA PROCESSING AND LEGAL BASIS FOR PROCESSING

The data provided by the user will be used for the following purposes: Responding to user information requests.

The data is collected based on the explicit consent of the data subject, which is provided by completing the relevant request form. Providing consent for the above purposes is optional. The user is free to provide or withhold consent; however, without consent, it will not be possible to follow up on the services offered by the site.

Navigation Data for Statistical/Analytical Purposes and Cybersecurity

These data are acquired by the computer systems and software procedures of this website for its normal operation. These are information that is not collected to be associated with identified users but could, by their very nature, through processing and association with data held by third parties, allow the identification of users.

These data are used solely to gather anonymous statistical information about the use of the site and to monitor its correct functioning. Additionally, they may be used to ascertain responsibility in the event of potential cybercrimes against the site. These data are collected based on the user's consent, expressed through continued navigation on the site (conclusive behavior).

However, it is possible to access the site without being asked to provide any personal data.

For completeness, it is recalled that, pursuant to Article 7 of Regulation 679/2016, the data subject has the right to withdraw consent at any time. Consent can be revoked as easily as it was granted.

METHODS OF DATA PROCESSING

The processing will be carried out using manual, electronic, and telematic tools, with methods strictly related to the purposes for which the data were collected, in compliance with the principle of purpose limitation, as well as all other principles outlined in Article 5 of Regulation 679/2016.

In particular, in observance of the principles of integrity and confidentiality, specific security measures are adopted to prevent data loss, illegal or incorrect use, and unauthorized access. The site is equipped with an SSL certificate, allowing visitors to view the site via a secure HTTPS connection.

OBLIGATION TO PROVIDE DATA

The provision of data is optional. However, failure to communicate the data will result in the inability to access the services provided by the website.

DATA RETENTION

The user's data will be retained by the data controllers for the period strictly necessary in accordance with applicable law. The user will, in any case, have the option to withdraw, as described above, their consent to the processing of data at any time. Data transmitted to any service providers will be processed by them for the time strictly necessary to carry out the tasks entrusted to them.

COMMUNICATION OF DATA

The data will not be disclosed, but, in addition to the Data Controller, it may be accessed by individuals involved in the organization of the site (administrative staff, collaborators), who are duly authorized, as well as third parties, external service providers (site manager, internet provider), acting on behalf of the Data Controller, duly appointed as Data Processors, who will process the data in accordance with the purpose for which the data was originally collected.

Therefore, this site may share some of the collected data with services located outside the European Union area as part of the activities of the identified external service providers. In such cases, the transfer is authorized based on specific decisions of the European Union and the Italian Data Protection Authority, or, in any case, occurs in countries outside the European Union that nevertheless offer an adequate level of data protection, so no further consent is required. (The European Commission has officially approved the "EU-US Data Privacy Framework," the new agreement for data transfer to the United States. With the publication of the new adequacy decision on July 10, 2023, Brussels formally recognized that there are now sufficient guarantees for the protection of personal data of EU citizens processed in the United States, along with legal safeguards that, together with the new parameters, are capable of limiting the invasive actions of U.S. intelligence agencies.)

Therefore, all necessary precautions will be adopted to ensure the maximum protection of personal data by basing such transfers on:

- a) Adequacy decisions of third-party countries expressed by the European Commission;
- b) Adequate guarantees expressed by the third-party recipient pursuant to Article 46 of the Regulation;
- c) Adoption of binding corporate rules (so-called Corporate Binding Rules).

Additionally, data may be communicated to all parties to whom communication is required due to legal obligations.

RIGHTS OF THE DATA SUBJECT

We inform you that Articles 15 to 22 of the European Union Regulation No. 2016/679 grant you specific rights (access, rectification, deletion, limitation, opposition, and portability) regarding the processing of your data, which you can exercise towards the Data Controller. You also have the right to withdraw your consent at any time, with the same ease with which it was granted.

If your rights, or those of the person you represent, have been violated, you also have the right to file a complaint with the Italian Data Protection Authority (website: www.garanteprivacy.it), which can be contacted at the email address garante@gpdp.it or through the website <http://www.gpdp.it>, as provided for by Article 77 of the European Regulation and Articles 141 and following of Legislative Decree 196/2003, as amended by Legislative Decree 101/2018. Alternatively, you may seek appropriate judicial remedies (Article 79 of the European Regulation and Article 152 of Legislative Decree 196/2003, as amended by Legislative Decree 101/2018).

You can exercise the above-mentioned rights by submitting a written request, also using the forms available on the Data Controller's website.

Requests related to the exercise of the rights recognized by Regulation 2016/679 can be sent in writing, including by e-mail, to the Data Controller, whose contact details are provided above. You may also request any clarification regarding this notice.

It is specified that personal data are not subject to any fully automated decision-making process, including profiling.

UPDATES

The Privacy Policy of the Site, since 25/05/2018, may be subject to periodic updates. Any substantial changes will be published on this page, and it is the responsibility of the user to periodically monitor this website for updates or modifications to these terms.
